

Small World: A Paper City's Adventure

picture by Echo

In the heart of a paper town, small and easy to miss, lived a tiny fish.

The tiny fish was very small, and the wide a paper town felt so very big.

Every day the tiny fish looked around and wondered if it could ever matter.

Then one morning, something went wrong in a paper town.

The light went out, and everyone was afraid.

"I am too small," the tiny fish thought.
"But I will try anyway."

The tiny fish took a deep breath and tried with all its heart.

But it remembered the faces that needed help, and it stood up again.

A dark blue night sky with a large, light yellow crescent moon in the upper right corner. Numerous small, light yellow stars of varying sizes are scattered across the sky.

The second try was better. The third was braver.

It was not magic. It was trying, again and again, until it worked.

The first try did not work. It only made things wobble.

The tiny fish sat down and felt very small indeed.

But it remembered the faces that needed help, and it stood up again.

The second try was better. The third was braver.

Little by little, the tiny fish kept going, and the others began to help too.

It was not magic. It was trying, again
and again, until it worked.

The wind picked up, but the tiny fish held on.

A friend called out, and the tiny fish felt less alone.

Every time it fell, it learned one new thing.

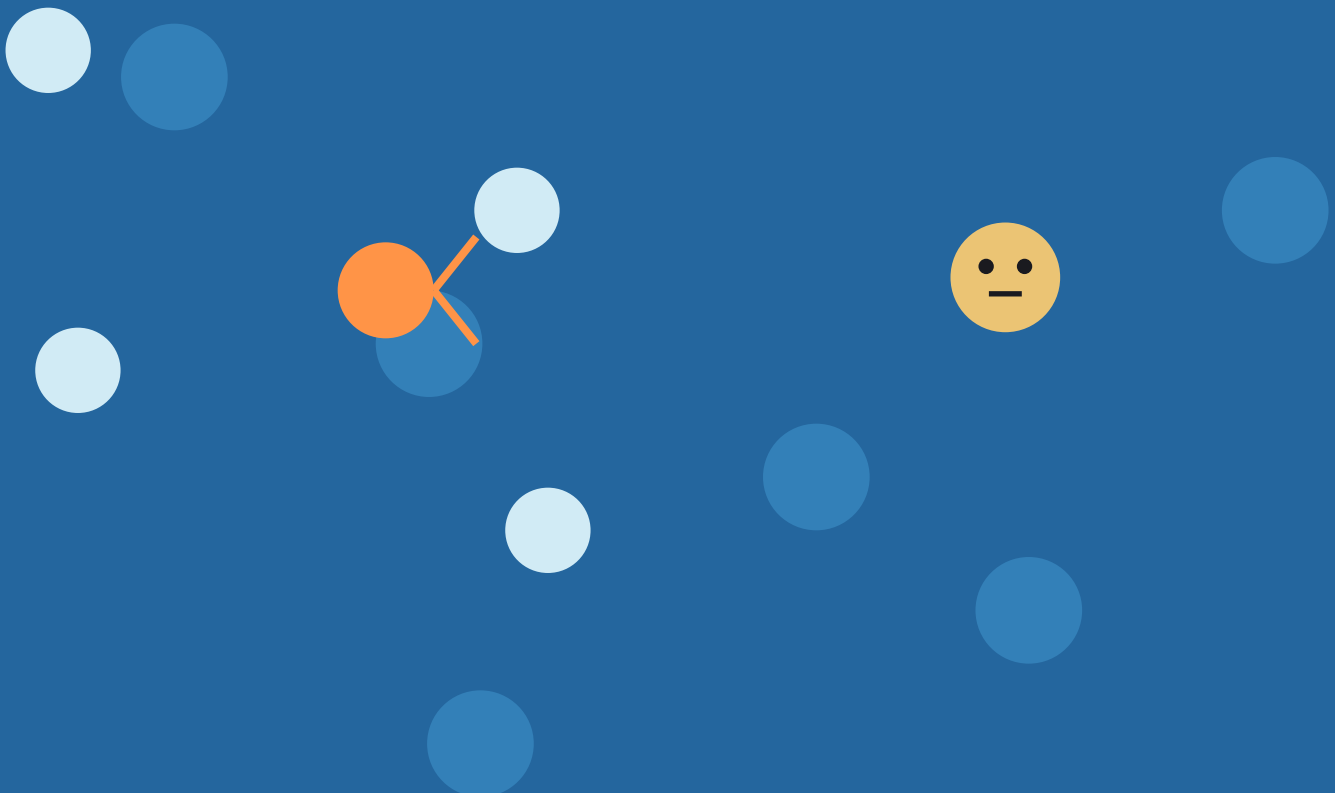

"You can do it," someone whispered. And the tiny fish believed it.

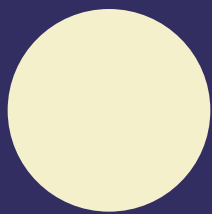

Step by step, the tiny fish found a new way no one had seen before.

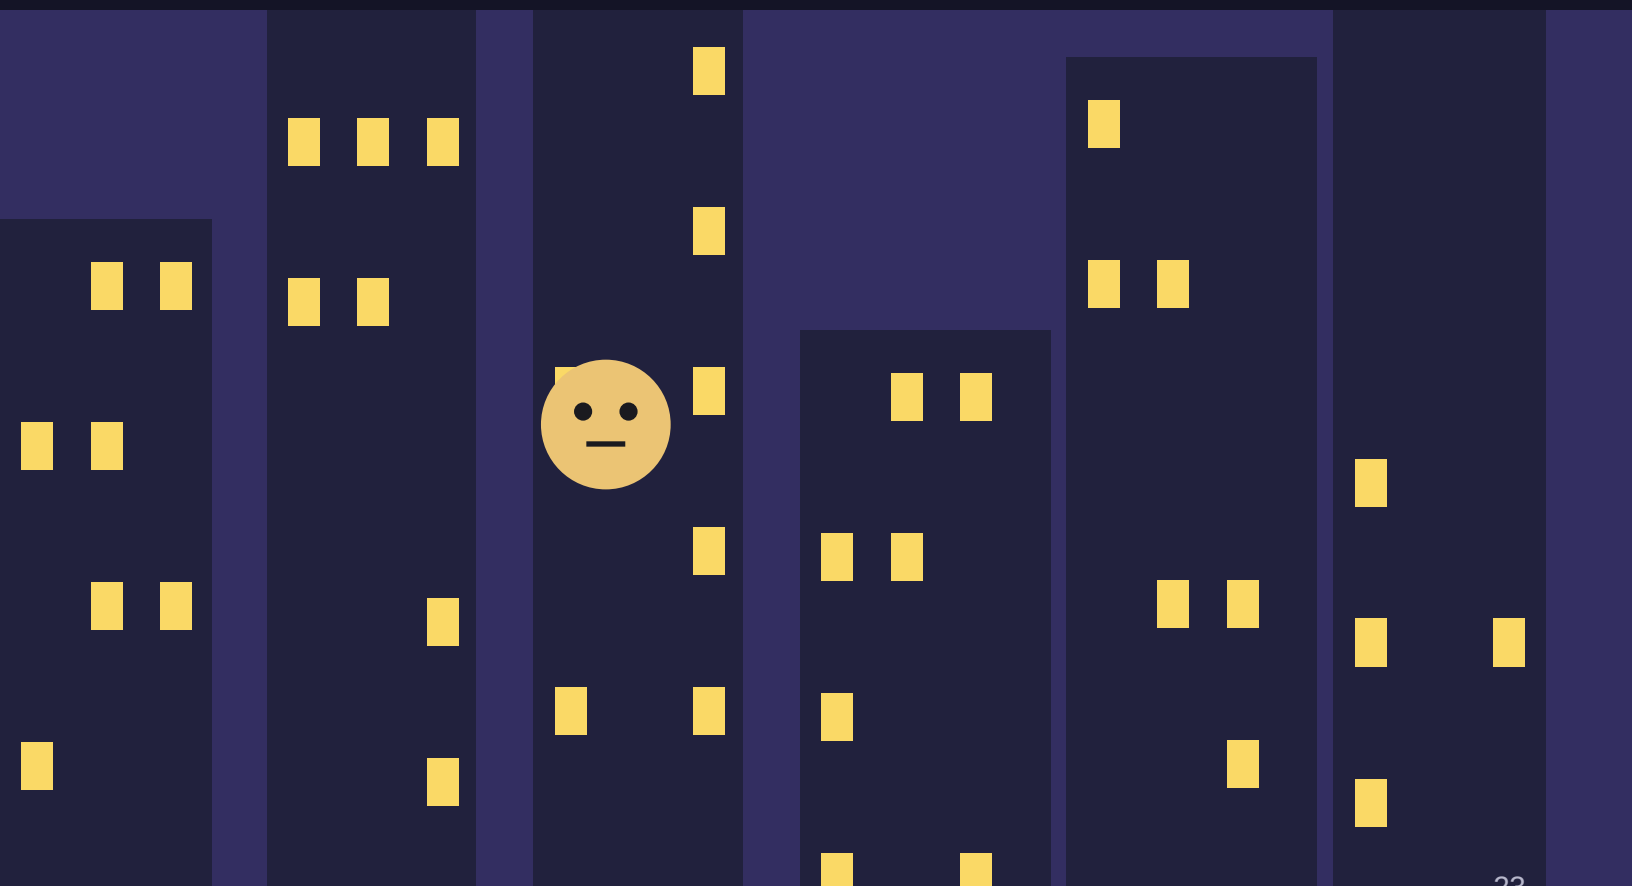

It tried again, and this time, it worked.

Everyone in a paper town gathered around,
amazed.

The tiny fish learned: it is okay to be afraid and try anyway.

The End

it is okay to be afraid and try anyway
