

Young ripple on a passing cloud

picture by Echo

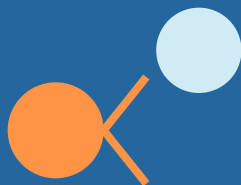

The sky's core held a tiny wave.

Day by day, she questioned if the world was too big for her to make waves.

One day chaos struck -- lost light, fear spreading like wildfire across the heavens.

The young heart shook, unsure of herself.

Her first attempt made everything sway and rock.

A dark blue night sky with a large yellow crescent moon in the upper right. Several small white stars are scattered across the sky, including a small cluster of four stars on the left.

Defeated, she sat silent.

But deep down she refused surrender.

Standing tall against the uncertain sky,
she tried again.

A dark blue night sky with a yellow crescent moon in the upper right and several small yellow stars scattered across the upper half.

Each failure brought new lessons, growing her strength.

The End

you don't have to be big to matter
